THE INTERNATIONAL SOCIETY OF PERIODONTAL PLASTIC SURGEONS (ISPPS) IS WELCOMING YOU TO EXHIBIT AT OUR ANNUAL SESSION IN AUSTIN, TX

35 years ago, Drs. Peter Nordland, Preston Miller & Pat Allen suggested they meet to discuss similarities in root coverage surgery which up to that time had been considered impossible or at best unpredictable. They met during the American Academy of Periodontology's Annual Meeting and shared differences and similarities in the procedures they were performing. CURRENTLY, This meeting, known as the ISPPS Annual Session, is one of the HIGH POINTS AT THE AAP MEETING. Today, the International Society of Periodontal Plastic Surgeons is composed of dental specialists throughout the world, most of whom are full-time clinicians and educators. The society meets annually the day before the AAP Annual Meeting to present new, innovative and, often unpublished material and techniques or modifications/refinements to existing techniques in the field of periodontal plastic and reconstructive surgery, aimed at improving overall esthetics to the benefit of patients long-term.

This event has grown dramatically and in 2023 we are expecting 200 periodontists to attend our single day session where 14 top clinicians will give their case presentations. This event is limited to only 12 exhibitors and is open on a first-come basis.
